
Choices

I live in America, the land that gives me the right to make choices and speak my mind.

But I have a disability... Nobody allows me to make choices. People tell me all the time what to wear, what to eat, what job to have and who are my friends. Is that fair? I say no!

But I have a disability... people don't listen to me anyway.... why should I give my opinions? I fight so hard for somebody to listen...just someone to listen... and give a damn about what I want.

If people with disabilities can live with everyone else, than why can't I make choices like anyone else...if that's my right as a citizen of the U.S.A?

Liz Obermayer
4/19/04